Managing Director: Denise Bradley

Denise Bradley has honed her expertise during more than 25 years of education, training and involvement in clinical psychology, resource development, grant writing and culturally-sensitive community-based outreach. She earned postgraduate degrees in clinical psychology from the California School of Professional Psychology and an undergraduate degree in psychology from Saint Mary's College. Her clinical internships include stints in the Family Practice and Neurosurgery Departments at King/Drew Medical Center and the Mental Health Department at the Watts Health Center in Los Angeles.

Using non-traditional and collaborative models, Ms Bradley has led the development of adult day health care centers, early intervention programs, perinatal substance abuse programs and residential- and community-based programs to support developmentally disabled children and adults.
